

C&A Enterprises
PO Box 34504
Charlotte, NC 28234
Fax: 619-367-7414
info@ca-enterprises.com

WEBSITE TONIGHT NOW OFFERS DYNAMIC CONTENT

C&A Hosting Site Builder with RSS Feeds Makes Creative Site Design Easy

Charlotte, NC (December 28th, 2006) – C&A Hosting; the internet division of C&A Enterprises, announces a new utility within its site builder application, WebSite Tonight®, which gives anyone the ability to automatically and instantaneously add fresh and attractive content to their site through RSS feeds.

The newest version of WebSite Tonight allows site creators to incorporate RSS feeds into their pages in minutes, without any programming skills or extra software. These feeds, which can include news, weather, sports, stock prices or even blogs, constantly update the page contents. Although C&A Hosting provides dozens of feeds for customers to include in their site, customers have the option to add their own.

WebSite Tonight is a quick and easy tool for building professional-looking Web sites. It offers more than 670 template options, 30 flash introductions, easy form editing and more than 1,700 premium images. With the simplicity of point-and-click design, the user can get a site online in minutes. WebSite Tonight plans include <Your Company Name> hosting with a 99.9% uptime guarantee, generous disk space, abundant bandwidth and up to 400 email accounts at no additional charge.

For more information on C&A Enterprises hosting plans, visit <http://www.ruawebsite.com>

About C&A Enterprises

C&A Enterprises is a family of companies that work together to be a leading global information solutions company that customers trust as a business intelligence partner and commerce facilitator. C&A Enterprises offers a broad range of products and services that enable our customers to capitalize on market opportunities and grow their business. C&A Enterprises was founded in 1996 with the idea that technology shouldn't be confusing and everyone should be able to use it to grow their business no matter what.

C&A Enterprises family of companies offer products and services for any company size whether you are a one person small business working out of a spare bedroom in your house or you have 4,000 employees in a high-rise down town. We have the product or service to meet your need. C&A Enterprises has partnered with some of today's top companies to offer you the best products and servers available without wasting your time and money because we have already done the legwork for you.